--observation: surprisingly askreddit is in 4th place, maybe due to sheer comment volume and not enough upvote distribution

--photoshopbattles comments are each tailor made and more impactful

--IAmA comments consist of questions asked to high profile people who only respond within a pre determined time frame

--gifs has more upvote participation likely due to its lesser comment participation so it has less throwaway comments

What do you get when you repeatedly hit the next suggested word on your phone's keyboard?

Question

I am a beautiful person who is the best of luck to you by the way to get a chance to win the game is a pre-built it might not say on the board itself is a pre-built it might not say on the board itself is a pre-built it might not say on the board itself...

I wonder how long it takes for others to start looping.

Edit: I'm using SwiftKey, post your keyboard of choice as well.

Edit 2: Front page on a big subreddit, woo!
